To Whom it May Concern,

As part of Google's growing efforts to support excellent research in academia, we are pleased, effective October 21, 2024, to award Monash University an unrestricted gift of 3,000 AUD. We understand Monash University intends to use this gift towards Hongyu Sun's work related to "A Prompt Learning Based Regulation Framework for Generalizable Point Cloud Analysis" and no overhead can be charged against these funds.

This is an unrestricted gift; however, we would appreciate receiving news about how the gift is used, for example, through copies of reports, publications, or status letters about research benefited by our gift. We would also appreciate receiving attribution or acknowledgment of our gift in applicable University publications. It is our hope that any researcher(s) who benefit from this gift will consider releasing any code or data from their project under an open source permissive license such as the Apache 2 license (<http://apache.org/licenses/LICENSE-2.0>) as well as consider abiding by Google's AI Principles (<http://ai.google/principles>). Please be advised that nothing in this letter should be interpreted or construed as creating or establishing the relationship of employer or employee between the researchers and Google. It is Google's intent that the funding will not be used to promote Google products.

Please have an authorized individual of Monash University sign in the space provided below to evidence Monash University's acceptance of this gift. Please return to Google electronically and if needed, correspondence can be directed to us at the following:
